Superintendents Message

To dwell upon the trials and tribulations of the recent past would be a vain endeavor indeed, but perhaps in this bicentennial year of 1976, we should look to the rich heritage that our forefathers in their often humble circumstances provided for their future generations. After much oppression in England where the State somewhat controlled religion and where education was often for a fortunate few, the colonists looked to the New World with great hope for freedom as they had never before experienced it.

Great foresight was shown by many of our early political leaders, as they strongly stressed in early documents the need for this new country to allow religious freedom for its people to worship as they chose without fear of governmental restraints and abuse. In the past few years, there has been a great increase of governmental interference in numerous areas by a government that at its birth guarded so heavily against this very type of control by the government. In nearly every facet of the daily lives of Americans today there is more and more control and regulation by the government with more heavy taxation required to finance such.

Another area of great foresight by our forefathers was that of education. Early leaders saw fit to set aside sections of land to provide the finances for the common schools, as they were called, where all could receive some education for a better life and for participation in the democratic affairs of the new nation. Here again, the federal government was not to be greatly involved, and this function was left to the states which provided for local school boards. Today, the situation has greatly eroded in many schools, and into receivership. Although the situation there may have been indeed bad, a healthy precedent was not set. Much of the trouble there may have been directly related to governmental interference and regulation along with previous court rulings. Federal judges, through their rulings on busing, integration and many other significant areas of education have greatly changed the structure and the outcome of all the schools of America by greatly affecting the daily lives of parents and children--often against their better judgment and that of their elected leaders.

The school has more responsibility in many areas than ever before, but its authority to act is being constantly eroded. Negotiated union contracts with personnel, rulings by federal judges and courts along with some legislation adopted by state legislatures are all hampering the American educational system to the extent that it might not well survive to meet the needs of a society by which it was so capably established. Educational achievements and standards as well as other freedoms and tolerance must be maintained if this democracy is to stand strong enough to reach future anniversaries of this bicentennial as a world leader.

I appreciate this opportunity to congratulate the Seniors of '76. This special year for you is also a very special year for all Americans. The progress that has occurred during the past 200 years has made you, the Seniors of '76, a part of or a product of one of the best educational systems in the world. You, as a group, have enjoyed one of the highest standards of living in the world. You are citizens of one of the greatest nations in the world.

When this nation was started 200 years ago, there were many challenges to face, frontiers to explore, and problems to solve. However, the challenges have never been so great, the frontiers so immense, or the problems so complex as they are today. If our nation is to remain one of the world leaders and maintain the standard of affluence we have, the Seniors of '76 must be the ones to make and maintain it in that position. As America celebrates its 200 birthday, may the Seniors of '76 continue to live up to their heritage of success and progress.

G. J. Burns

While human beings do learn without being taught, and while most of us would prefer this unstructured method, it is unlikely that anyone alive today has discovered agriculture or the controlled use of fire for himself. Thinkers build upon the past, they do not waste time in rediscovering it. The school of experience is no school at all, not because no one learns in it but because no one teaches. Teaching is the expediting of learning. It is my hope that the students of Hyannis High would make the greatest use of their opportunity to acquire an education and avoid many of the disappointments of accidental discovery.

FACULTY

Faculty

Miss McMullen: It looks familiar... but what its for?

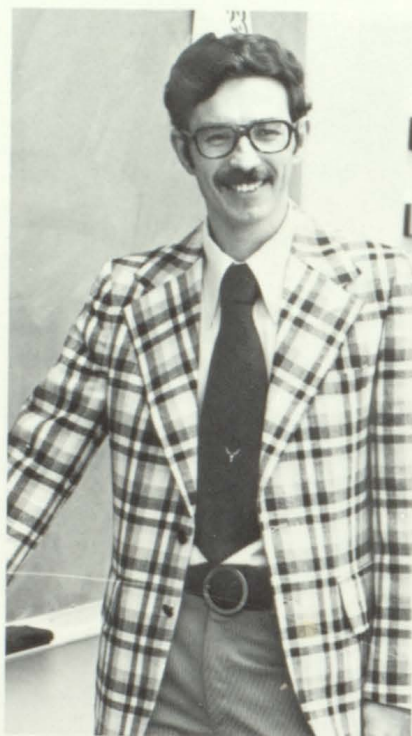

Miss Anderson: Oh dear... I'm going to miss my eighth period class... thanks to a little snow.

Mrs. Hooper: Please, it's spelled "s i x"!

Mr. Daugherty: Gum? What gum?

Mr. Hughes: Yes. It's the same Joseph Hooker.

Mrs. Howell: Why, oh why, did they ruin my favorite potholders.

Mr. Dyer: All right you guys, who stole my passes?

Mrs. DeLisle: Oh good, only 59 more days of school.

Mr. Peters: M.I.P. huh.

Mr. Miller: You used Elmer's glue on what?

Mr. Naylor: mm' good!.. mm' good!...

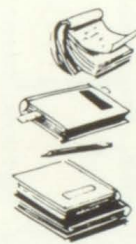

Mr. Bills: Bills For President (another Democrat?)

Miss Johnson: And now for the news.

Mr. Ellis: After two years of pointing to Einsteinium, when are they going to take the picture?

Mrs. Clarke: Your speech is about what?

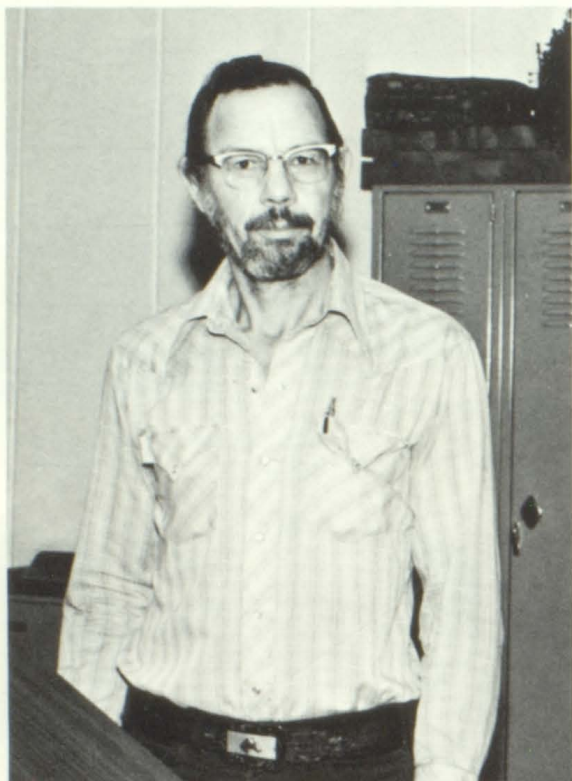

Mr. Rice: We left the statisticians... where?

Mr. Malcolm: I see no humor in that.

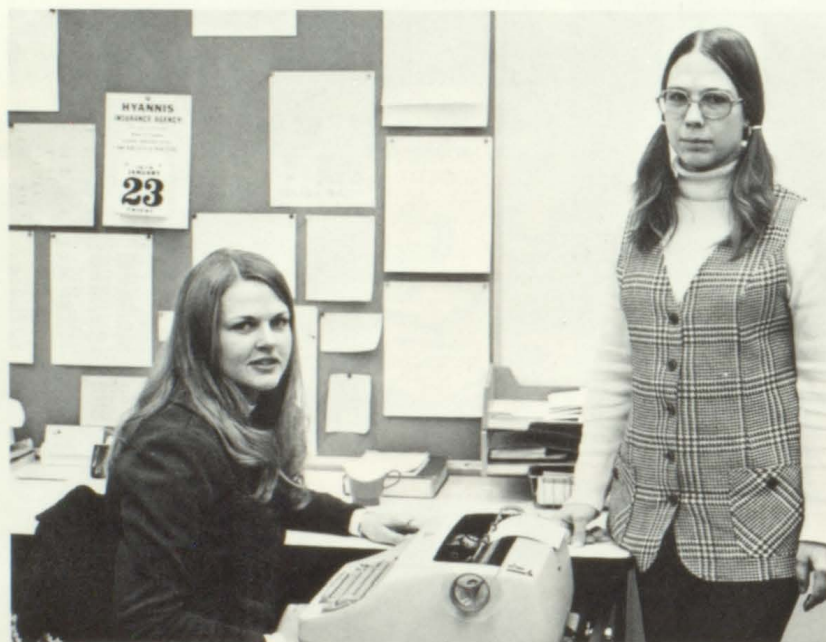

Staff

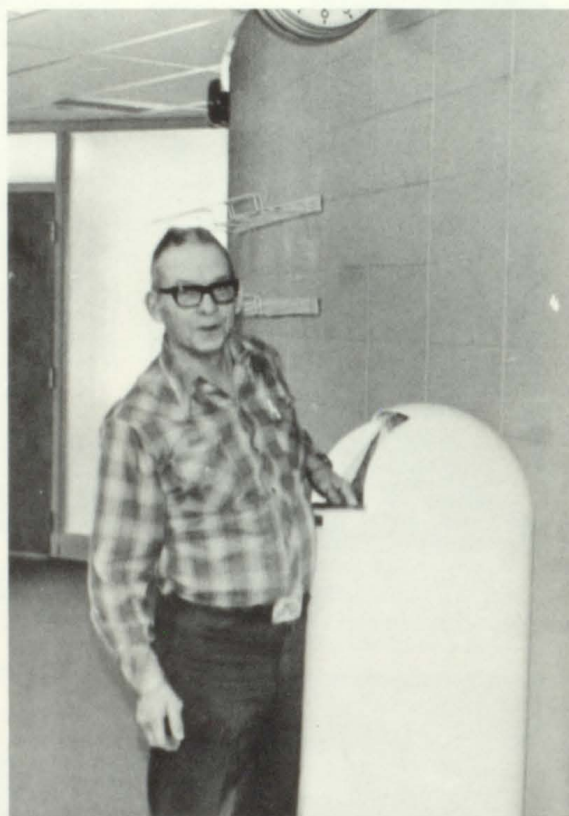

Stuck Again! Mr. Garner

What's Cookin? Mrs. McCray, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Rice

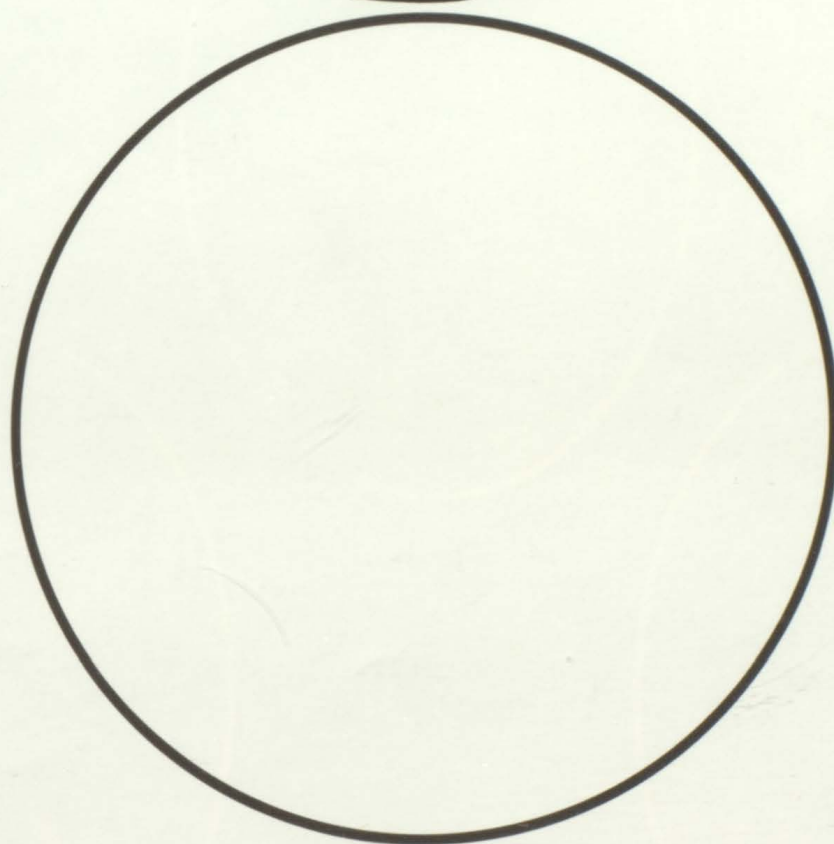

How do you spell "secretary"? Miss Merrihew, Mrs. Wilson

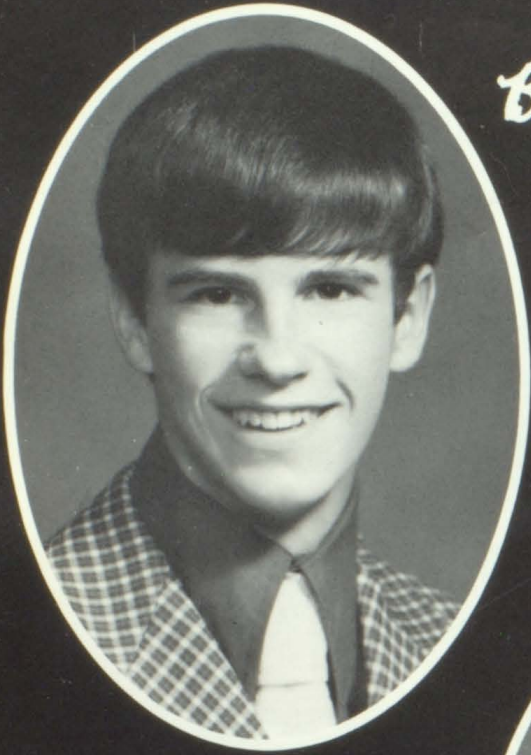

Wouldn't you give your hand to a friend? Mr. Collins

Although we rarely show our appreciation to the staff of Hyannis High School we're sure everyone will join us in saying 'Thanks to you' at this time. If not for you, many lockers would never be unjammed, many meals would never be so delicious and many letters would never be typed or phone calls answered. These are just a few of the never ending tasks and we REALLY do appreciate it!

Caramel Apples Anyone!!!

We, the F.B.L.A., have had many learning experiences this year. We had a very formal experience with our installation of new officers. For money making projects we did the following: made and sold caramel apples, operated the concession stand, and sold variety items. During FBLA week February 9-13, we went to Allaince and toured Woolrich Inc., and the KCOW radio station where many of our members made spot announcements on FBLA and FHA. In March we went to Omaha for the State FBLA Convention.

The enthusiasm of the 22 Jr. High volleyball players was the greatest feature of the season. We often fielded two overflowing teams when the opposition agreed to playing two matches. Our excitement and seasons practice proved fruitful in the Sandhills Conference Tournament when the Hyannis Jr. High was awarded the second place trophy. Out of seven total games, Hyannis was victorious in three.

Homecoming 75 Queen King

Brook:Brad

S-A-T-U-R-D-A-Y NIGHT!
HHS students have always enjoyed Saturday nights but Oct. 11 was special because it was Homecoming 75. Before the big day arrived, Spirit Week got everyone into the mood of things as students and faculty participated in the candy guess, blue and white day, hat raffle, and farmer's day that took place throughout the week. Friday night the traditional bonfire and pep rally was held complete with a death march and burning of the Harrison "Warrior". Homecoming day brought sunshine, a parade, and victories for both the volleyball and football teams over Harrison. The crowning of the royalty took place next. Congratulations Brook and Brad! The Homecoming dance followed the Homecoming ending the day perfectly.

Woody meets the sheriff. Milton and Ron

Fantasy, reality, Irish folklore and romance were the ingredients which made FINIAN'S RAINBOW one of the big musical successes that Hyannis High School has produced in recent years.

Playing the feature roll, Barney Ellis as Finian, portrayed the Irish dreamer with sincerity and conviction. The fun began when Finian came to Rainbow Valley, an impoverished sharecropper's area in the state of Misstucky. Here he brings his daughter, Sharon played by Valerie Dubs, to find a place where he can bury the crock of Gold he stole from a leprechaun. The leprechaun, played by Doug Monahan, comes in pursuit, uttering dire warnings of misery and destruction. Sharon finds a romance with Woody, the folk singing merchant marine who comes home to save his sister's land from the money hungry senator, BillBoard Rawkins. Woody is played by Ron Evans, a baritone who has a voice that buries finance men. Finian plants his gold in Rainbow Valley after Woody saves the land from the Tax Sale and Susan the Silent, portrayed by Joan Bullington, leads an enthusiastic dance to "Look to the Rainbow," created by junior Joyce Greathouse. Wishes are made over the crock of gold turning the Senator into a black man and sends him hiding into the wilderness. Scott Anderson and Doug Monahan gave outstanding performances as the Senator and the Leprechaun, OG.

The production was enhanced with performances by Pollie Beckenbach as the "Mammy" and Junior High Boys Mike Davis, Jack Bullington, and Rick Wheelock as her "young-uns".

The production was directed by Mr. Gary Naylor and choreographed by Joyce Greathouse. The 65 member cast gave 3 outstanding performances April 28-30.

Jr High Presents "H.M.S. Pinafore"

The Hero

Poor Little Buttercup

What's happening?

On November 20 and 21 the Hyannis Junior High presented the musical H. M. S. Pinafore. The story of a young sailor named Ralph who has fallen in love with the Captain's daughter, Josephine. She, however, is promised to the Admiral, Sir Joseph Porter. Josephine and Ralph plan to elope but the villain Dick Deadeye, overhears the conversation. Sir Joseph, tries to win Josephine, Buttercup consoles the Captain, Deadeye exposes the plot and Ralph is arrested. But Little Buttercup saves the day by disclosing her secret of how she nursed two babies many years ago, one of high degree and one of low, and accidentally got them mixed. "The well-born baby was Ralph: your captain was the other." Whereupon the Admiral gives Josephine to Ralph, who now takes command of the ship. The Captain proposes to Buttercup and the crew sings "It's greatly to his credit that he's an Englishman."

Doug R. reads the prophecy

Doug D. reads the class will

April 17 was the date for Prom 76. The evening banquet was held at the United Church of Christ. After the meal, which included turkey, dressing, and a dessert parlor, the prophecy and class will were read. The highlight of the evening was the guest speaker, Mrs. Mann, who gave her interpretation and thoughts of the senior's class motto. After the banquet everyone moved to the gym to dance to the music of the Strawdogs.
