Coach Gould commented "The community should be proud as the Jr. High wrestling team had one of its best years in a long time. None of the Jr. High wrestling tournaments kept track of team placing until the last tournament of the year at Mullen. Here 11 local teams were present and your Longhorn wrestlers took 2nd place and brought home a nice trophy. All of the wrestlers did a great job especially Gabe Haney, who went undefeated this season, winning four different tournaments."

The Sweetheart Roalty of 2012 consisted of JT Monahan (Prince), Sarah Ramsay (Queen) and Tyler Neilson (King). These are just a few of the Seniors in the FFA chapter! They all will be greatly missed! The dance was held on February 25th by the FFA chapter, they had Complete Music out of Kearney as their DJ and they spent the nights before decorating. Everyone at the dance had a blast!

The Juniors worked all week on transforming the gym to an elegant, dreamy, formal affair. They put in 33 1/2 hours of diligent hard work. Mrs. Mooney and Ms. Reed were the sponsors this year and they did a great job. The DJ was Josh from Complete music.

The seventh grade class all dressed up for black out day.

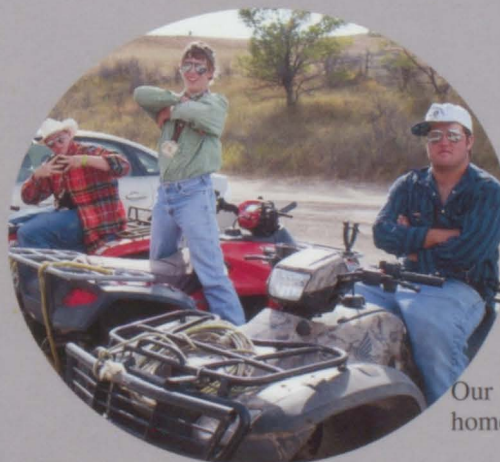

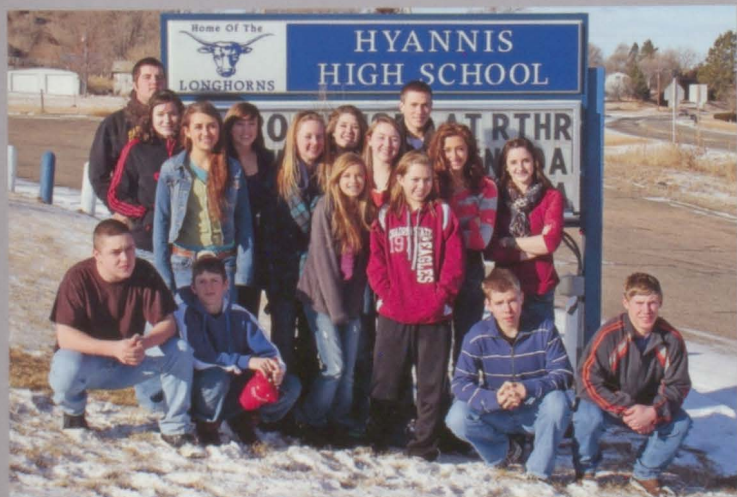

During the 2011-12 school year student council members were again busy with some annual activities. Of course, one of the first projects besides elections is Homecoming. Everyone agreed that the homecoming activities were a huge success. Weekly activities and dress-up days were enjoyed by staff and students. In November they held the soup supper, and in December they did the gifts for the Children's Home at Fremont and a movie for the student body before Christmas vacation. This year's community clean-up day was postponed until the fall due to so many activities taking students out of the classrooms this spring. Student council members were excited that they were able to get the pop machine on during most of the day.

The TeamMates mentoring program was founded by Tom and Nancy Osborne. It is a school-based mentoring program. Hyannis' Chapter was started five years ago and currently has 20 matches. The students start the program in the 5th grade (or any time after) and their mentor ideally stays with them through graduation. They meet one hour per school-year week. Hyannis has a very active program and enjoys group trips, parties, and many other activities. The coordinator is Georgeann Wearin.

The Rocking Horse Winner

by Roy C. Booth

In The Rocking Horse Winner, Hester Chesmond was a beautiful woman who married for love and had three happy children, Paul, Joan, and Kathryn. Yet, she felt her children were thrust upon her, and she could not love them. Hester is dissatisfied with her husband's failure to make enough money to support their elegant lifestyle, and so the house came to be haunted by the unspoken phrase, "There must be more money, there must be more money!"

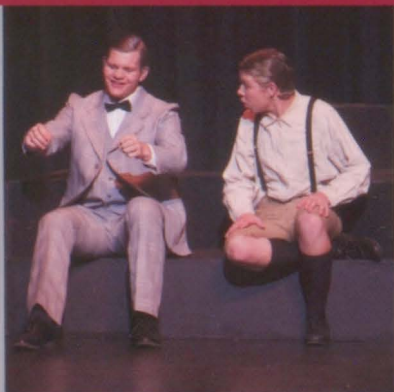

One day, Paul asks why the family doesn't have their own car. Paul's mother tells him they are the poor members of the family because his father has no luck. Hester explains to her son that luck is what causes a person to have money. The small boy makes it his ambition to make his mother feel lucky.

Paul received a rocking horse for Christmas one year, and rides it with wild charge. He commands the horse to take him where there is luck. After completing a ride, Paul's uncle Oscar asks him what the horse's name is. Oscar learns that the gardener, Bassett, keeps Paul up to date on racing news and the boy rides the winner of the race. When Paul's uncle asks him if he should bet on Mirza, Paul recommends Daffodil and tells his uncle that he only knows the winner of the race.

Master Paul continues to ride his rocking horse in order to find the winner of the races because he wants to give the money he wins to his mother. The boy so wants his mom to feel lucky, but she is never happy with what she has. Hester wants more money. Her poor boy Paul rides his rocking horse furiously to find the winner of the Derby, and becomes wild eyed and strange. He collapses from exhaustion, but he found his winner, Malabar, and won eighty-thousand pounds. That night, Paul tells his mother he is lucky, and begs his mother to love him. Hester is eighty-thousand to the good, but Paul's ambition to make his mother happy killed him.

The contest held at NPCC went well. The winner of any given contest was awarded a $5,000 scholarship, and the top three in the contest won the opportunity to take a free class during the summer. Sierra Bixby was the only contestant from Hyannis that placed in the top three getting first overall in the Health Occupations test. Although nobody else won any prizes they did very well. ## Missoula Children's Theater

Mary Lennox, is born in India to rich United Kingdom parents. She is unwanted by her mother and taken care of primarily by servants, who pacify her as much as possible. Spoiled with a temper, she is unaffectionate, angry, rude and obstinate. A cholera breakout in the manor kills her parents and many servants. She is discovered alone and is sent to England to live with her uncle, Archibald Craven.

At first, Mary is told that she must stay in her two rooms and that nobody will bother much with her and she must amuse herself. Martha Sowerby, her good-natured maidservant, tells Mary a story of the late Mrs. Craven, and how she would spend hours in a private garden growing roses; an untimely accident kills her, and Mr. Craven has the garden locked and the key buried. Mary is roused by this story and starts to soften her ill manner despite herself. Soon she gradually comes to enjoy the company of Martha, Ben Weatherstaff the gardener, and also that of a friendly robin redbreast to whom she attaches human qualities. Mary's time is occupied by wondering about the secret garden and a strange crying that can sometimes be heard around the house which the servants ignore or deny. While exploring the gardens, Mary comes across a badger hole and finds a key belonging to a garden nobody has tended to for over ten years. She chances to ask the housekeeper (Martha) for garden tools, which Martha has delivered by Dickon, her twelve-year-old brother. Mary and Dickon take a liking to each other, as Dickon has a soft way with animals and a good nature. Eager to absorb his gardening knowledge, she reluctantly lets him into the secret of the garden, which he agrees to keep.

That night, Mary hears the crying again. She follows the noise and to her surprise finds a small boy her age, living in a hidden bedroom. They discover they are cousins: he is the son of her uncle; and he suffers from an unspecified problem with his spine. It is decided he needs fresh air and the secret garden. Colin is put into his wheelchair and brought outside into the garden, the first time he's been outdoors in years.

Colin spends every day in the garden, becoming stronger. The children conspire to keep Colin's health a secret so he can surprise his father, who traveling. As Colin's health improves, his father's mood does as well, and he has a dream of his wife calling him into the garden that makes him immediately pack his bags and head home. He walks the outer wall in memory but hears voices inside, finds the door unlocked and is shocked to not only see the garden but also Collin walking. The servants watch as Mr. Craven walks back to the manor, and all are in awe as Collin runs by his side.
